Dear Public Health Majors,

We are pleased to report that the Academic Senate has approved concentrations within the B.S. in Public Health Major. The newly approved option for students to select one of six concentrations in Public Health (listed on the student’s diploma) builds on the mission and values of our new Herbert Wertheim School of Public Health and Human Longevity Science at UC San Diego. This curriculum update will provide our students with additional options for a more robust learning experience in public health that prepares them well for careers and graduate work in the field.

All Public Health Majors graduating in FA20 and beyond will have the opportunity to switch into any of the following concentrations listed below by December 1st, 2020 using the Major/Minor Tool. Double Majors with Public Health will need to fill out new Double Major Petition Forms to switch into one of the concentrations. We will send out another message during fall quarter once the new majors are active and available to switch into. To find out more about all degree options in Public Health, please click one of the links below. (https://ph.ucsd.edu/undergrad/undergrad/new-major-req/index.html)

- Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) Major
- Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) with Concentration in Biostatistics Major
- Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) with Concentration in Climate and Environmental Sciences Major
- Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) with Concentration in Community Health Sciences Major
- Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) with Concentration in Epidemiology Major
- Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) with Concentration in Health Policy and Management Sciences Major
- Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) with Concentration in Medicine Sciences Major

Thank you.

Recent News Articles regarding our new Herbert Wertheim School of Public Health and Human Longevity Science at UC San Diego:

- Cheryl Anderson Named Founding Dean of The Herbert Wertheim School of Public Health and Human Longevity Science at UC San Diego
- University of California Board of Regents Academic and Student Affairs Committee has approved the establishment of a School of Public Health at UC San Diego